

Promotional Rings

Approximate Size

If low cost is more important than strength, then these are the rings for you. Made from nickel-plated spring-tempered wire, these rings are still built to our normal standards of excellence, but are made of spring-wire, which has less strength than our standard rings. The wire also has a 90 degree cut-off on the ends. You should check these rings in your application before use, since they do have different properties than our standard rings. Great for souvenir and economy applications.
